Grains

How a small farm gets into grain

- Line up the buyer first: mill, malt house, baker, distiller or feed mill. Get their specs in writing: variety, protein, falling number, DON (vomitoxin) limit, moisture, cleanliness
- Pick varieties from regional trials and the buyer's preferences, and source enough clean seed
- Plan harvest: custom combining is the default. Rain at harvest means sprouting and low falling number, so timing matters in the humid South
- Plan drying and storage before harvest: moisture meter, dryer or aeration, clean bins. FSA Farm Storage Facility Loans (up to $500,000, or a $50,000 microloan with 5% down) finance bins and dryers
- Clean every lot with a seed cleaner or a custom cleaner. Buyers dock or reject dirty grain
- Test every lot for falling number, protein, DON and moisture, and keep the results with the lot
- Whole grain or flour? Selling whole grain is a farm product sale. Milling is food processing, with its own license, labeling and organic handling steps
- Get terms in writing: price basis, delivery, docking, payment timing

Networks and gatherings

Farm insurance

Why it matters

- Protect what the grant buys. Equipment, coolers and sheds need to be on a farm policy
- Buyers and markets ask for it. Most want $1M per occurrence, $2M aggregate, with them named as additional insured
- A home policy usually does not cover the farm business. Ask your agent to confirm in writing

Coverage most small farms need

- Farm policy (farmowners): house, barns, equipment, and farm liability in one package. Sold by each state's Farm Bureau insurer, Nationwide Agribusiness (www.nationwide.com/business/agribusiness) and independent ag agents
- Product liability: for food you sell. FLIP (fliprogram.com) from $299 a year, with a farmers market vendor program. FLIP tools and equipment add-on is closed to new buyers in AL, FL, LA and MS for now
- Equipment (inland marine): covers tools and equipment off the farm, like at markets
- Farm produce and cold storage: covers stored product. Ask about spoilage if you run a cooler
- Agritourism and events: U-pick, tours, dinners. Pair it with your state's agritourism liability sign rules
- Umbrella: extra liability limits on top of the farm policy
- Workers' comp: many states exempt small farm employers, but coverage is still worth pricing
- Farm or commercial auto: the grant cannot buy vehicles, but delivery vehicles still need coverage

USDA crop and livestock insurance

- Micro Farm: whole-farm policy up to $350,000 revenue ($400,000 if you had it the prior year). Built for diversified, organic and direct-market farms. Coverage 50-90%, government pays 56-80% of the premium. Sales closing Feb 28, Mar 31 or Apr 15 by county
- Whole-Farm Revenue Protection: up to $17 million insured revenue, covers organic crops and livestock
- FSA NAP: for crops with no crop insurance. $325 per crop, fee waived for beginning, limited-resource and veteran farmers
- Livestock Risk Protection: covers price drops for feeder cattle, fed cattle and swine
- Livestock Gross Margin and Dairy Revenue Protection: margin and milk revenue coverage
- Pasture, Rangeland, Forage: rainfall-index coverage for grazing land
- Apiculture: index coverage for honey producers
- Weaned Calf Risk Protection: Texas only among our states
- Beginning farmers (now 10 years): admin fee waived, plus 10-15 extra points of premium subsidy
- Find an agent: RMA Agent Locator (rma.usda.gov/tools-reports/agent-locator). A livestock agent may not sell crop policies, ask

Questions to ask your agent

- Do I have to join Farm Bureau, and what are the dues in my county?
- Does my policy cover farm liability, or only the home? Does it cover direct sales, markets, value-added products and visitors?
- Is new equipment covered off the farm, at markets or on loan?
- Is product liability included, or do I need a separate policy like FLIP? What limits do my buyers require?
- Does it cover U-pick, tours or events?
- Is product in my cooler covered if it spoils?
- Do I need workers' comp at my headcount, and should I carry it anyway?
- Which USDA policy fits me (Micro Farm, WFRP or a single crop)? Do I get beginning farmer benefits? When is my sales closing date?

NAP: coverage for crops with no crop insurance

What NAP is

- Covers crops with no federal crop insurance: vegetables, fruit, herbs, flowers, mushrooms, honey, aquaculture, sod, ginseng and more. Also crops where the only insurance is an index or whole-farm policy
- Covers natural disaster losses: low yield, lost inventory, prevented planting
- Who: owners, tenants or sharecroppers sharing in the crop risk. Not available above $900,000 average AGI

What it costs
